Government e-mail access move 'is snoopers' charter'

1. The aim is to ensure internet providers keep records of the time and address of an e-mail for a year.
2. It's not about finding out what site you visited or who you have emailed. It's about targeting known terrorists, suspected activists who are trying to cause serious damage to our society.
3. He claimed the bill was about mass surveillance and unfettered access to personal data.
4. It's very worrying. I know there is always that common cliché out there that if you have nothing to hide you have nothing to fear.
